

AREAS OF PRACTICE

Choosing an attorney can be one of the most important decisions you ever make. Every case, whether criminal or civil, is unique. While many larger firms can only support their high overhead costs by taking on a large volume of cases, it is important for you to choose an attorney who will provide a client centered, high quality, and detail oriented approach. I am an Attorney in Murfreesboro, TN but I serve all of Middle Tennessee and I can help you.

You should choose a professional that will promptly answer and return your phone calls, emails, and correspondence. You should be kept up to date regularly on all past, present, and future issues concerning your case. When paying your hard earned money for legal services, you deserve to have all of your questions promptly answered, your concerns cared for, and you should always be treated as a top priority. Do not settle for less.

Whether your case is complex or simple in nature, you need to be made aware of both the strength and weakness of your case so you can make informed decisions that will be impacting both the short and long terms aspects of your life. You need an attorney who will regularly sit down with you and calmly explain everything to you in language that you clearly understand. You should not have any unanswered questions regarding your case after speaking with your attorney.

I believe that honor, integrity, hard-work ethic, and reliability are essential attributes of any professional. I offer a very personal, high quality, and client centered approach that big firms don't offer. I strive to build professional, long lasting relationships with all of my clients.
